

STATIONS of the CROSS

EVERYONE'S WAY OF THE CROSS

INTRODUCTION

Leader: These fourteen steps that you are now about to walk you do not take alone. I walk with you. Though you are you, and I am I, yet we are truly one, one Christ.

And therefore my way of the cross two thousand years ago and your "way" now are also one.

But note this difference. My life was incomplete until I crowned it by my death. Your fourteen steps will only be complete when you have crowned them by your life.

Leader: We Adore you O Christ and we praise you.

All: Because by your Holy Cross you have redeemed the world.

Leader: In Pilates hands, my other self, I see my Father's will. Though Pilate is unjust, he is the lawful governor and has power over me. And so the Son of God obeys.

If I can bow to Pilates rule because this is my Father's will, can you refuse obedience to those whom I place over you?

All: My Jesus Lord, Obedience cost you your life. For me an act of will – no more – and yet how hard it is for me to bend. Remove the blinders from my eyes that I may see that it is you whom I obey in all who govern me. Lord, it is you.

*Sung: At the cross her station keeping,
Stood the mournful Mother weeping,
Close to Jesus to the last.*

Leader: We Adore you O Christ and we praise you.

All: Because by your Holy Cross you have redeemed the world.

Leader: This cross, this chunk of tree, is what my Father chose for me. The crosses you must bear are largely products of your daily life. And yet my Father chose them too, for you. Receive them from his hands. Take heed, my other self, I will not let your burdens grow one ounce too heavy for our strength.

All: My Jesus Lord, I take my daily cross. I welcome the monotony that often marks my day, discomforts of all kinds, the summer's heat, the winter's cold, my disappointments, tensions, setbacks, cares. Remind me often that in carrying my cross, I carry yours with you. And though I bear a sliver only of your cross, You carry all of mine, except a sliver, in return.

*Sung: Through her heart, his sorrow sharing,
All his bitter anguish bearing,
Now at length the sword has passed.*

Leader: We Adore you O Christ and we praise you.

All: Because by your Holy Cross you have redeemed the world.

Leader: The God who made the universe, and holds it in existence by his will alone, becomes a man, too weak to bear a piece of timber's weight. How human in his weakness is the Son of God. My Father willed it thus. I could not be your model otherwise. If you would be my other self, you also must accept without complaint your human frailties.

All: Lord Jesus, how can I refuse? I willingly accept my weaknesses, my irritations and my moods, my headaches and fatigue, all my defects of body, mind and soul. Because they are your will for me, these "handicaps" of my humanity, I gladly suffer them. Make me content with all my discontents, but give me strength to struggle after you.

*Sung: Oh, how sad and sore distressed
Was that Mother highly blest
Of the sole begotten One!*

Leader: We Adore you O Christ and we praise you.

All: Because by your Holy Cross you have redeemed the world.

*Sung: Oh, how sad and sore distressed
Was that Mother highly blest
Of the sole begotten One!*

Leader: We Adore you O Christ and we praise you.

All: Because by your Holy Cross you have redeemed the world.

Leader: My strength is gone; I can no longer bear the cross alone. And so the legionnaires make Simon give me aid. This Simon is like you, my other self. Give me your strength. Each time you lift some burden from another's back, you lift as with your very hand the cross's awful weight that crushes me.

All: Lord, make me realize that every time I wipe a dish, pick up an object off the floor, assist a child in some small task, or give another preference in traffic or the store; each time I feed the hungry, clothe the naked, teach the ignorant, or lend my hand in any way – it matters not to whom – my name is Simon. And the kindness I extend to them I really give to you.

*Sung: Is there one who would not weep,
'Whelmed in miseries so deep,
Christ's dear Mother to behold?*

Leader: We Adore you O Christ and we praise you.

All: Because by your Holy Cross you have redeemed the world.

Leader: Can you be brave enough, my other self, to wipe my bloody face? Where is my face, you ask? At home whenever eyes fill up with tears, at work when tensions rise, on playgrounds, in the slums, the courts, the hospitals, the jails – wherever suffering exists – my face is there. And there I look for you to wipe away my blood and tears.

All: Lord, what you ask is hard. It calls for courage and self-sacrifice, and I am weak. Please, give me strength. Don't let me run away because of fear. Lord, live in me and act in me and love in me. And not in me alone – in all of us – so that we may reveal no more your bloody but your glorious face on earth.

*Sung: Can the human heart refrain
From partaking in her pain,
In that Mother's pain untold?*

Leader: We Adore you O Christ and we praise you.

All: Because by your Holy Cross you have redeemed the world.

Leader: This seventh step, my other self, is one that tests your will. From this fall learn to persevere in doing good. The time will come when all your efforts seem to fail and you will think, "I can't go on." Then turn to me, my heavy laden one, and I will give you rest. Trust me and carry on.

All: Give me your courage, Lord. When failure presses heavily on me and I am desolate, stretch out your hand to lift me up. I know I must not cease, but persevere in doing good. But help me, Lord. Alone there's nothing I can do. With you, I can do anything you ask. I will.

*Sung: Bruised, derided, cursed, defiled,
She beheld her tender Child,
All with bloody scourges rent.*

Leader: We Adore you O Christ and we praise you.

All: Because by your Holy Cross you have redeemed the world.

Leader: How often had I longed to take the children of Jerusalem and gather them to me. But they refused. But now these women weep for me and my heart mourns for them -- mourns for their sorrows that will come. I comfort those who seek to solace me. How gentle can you be, my other self? How kind?

All: My Jesus, your compassion in your passion is beyond compare. Lord, teach me, help me to learn. When I would snap at those who hurt me with their ridicule, those who misunderstand, or hinder me with some misguided helpfulness, those who intrude upon my privacy-- then help me curb my tongue. May gentleness become my cloak. Lord, make me kind like you.

*Sung: For the sins of his own nation,
Saw him hang in desolation
Till his spirit forth he sent.*

Leader: We Adore you O Christ and we praise you.

All: Because by your Holy Cross you have redeemed the world.

Leader: Completely drained of strength I lie, collapsed, upon the cobblestones. My body cannot move. No blows, no kicks, can rouse it up. And yet my will is mine and so is yours. Know this, my other self, your body may be broken, but no force on earth and none in hell can take away your will. Your will is yours.

All: My Lord, I see you take a moments rest then rise and stagger on. So I can do because my will is mine. When all my strength is gone and guilt and self-reproach press me to earth and seem to hold me fast, protect me from the sin of Judas – save me from despair! Lord, never let me feel that any sin of mine is greater than your love. No matter what my past has been I can begin anew.

*Sung: O sweet Mother! fount of love,
Touch my spirit from above,
Make my heart with your accord.*

Leader: We Adore you O Christ and we praise you.

All: Because by your Holy Cross you have redeemed the world.

Leader: Behold, my other self, the poorest king who ever lived. Before my creatures I stand stripped. The cross – my deathbed – even this is not my own. Yet who has ever been so rich? Possessing nothing, I own all – My Father's love. If you, too, would own everything, be not solicitous about your food, your clothes, your life.

All: My Lord, I offer you my all – whatever I possess, and more, my self. Detach me from the craving for prestige, position, wealth. Root out of me all trace of envy of my neighbor who has more than I. Release me from the vice of pride, my longing to exalt myself, and lead me to the lowest place. May I be poor in spirit, Lord, so that I can be rich in you.

*Sung: Make me feel as you have felt;
Make my soul to glow and melt
With the love of Christ, my Lord.*

Leader: We Adore you O Christ and we praise you.

All: Because by your Holy Cross you have redeemed the world.

Leader: Can you imagine what a crucifixion is? My executioners stretch my arms; they hold my hand and wrist against the wood and press the nail until it stabs my flesh. Then, with one heavy hammer smash, they drive it through – and pain bursts like a bomb of fire in my brain. They seize the other arm; and agony again explodes. Then raising up my knees so that my feet are flat against the wood, they hammer them fast too.

All: My God, I look at you and think: is my soul worth this much? What can I give you in return? I here and now accept for all my life whatever sickness, torment, agony may come. To every cross I touch my lips. O blessed cross that lets me be – with you – a co-redeemer of humanity.

*Sung: Holy Mother, pierce me through,
In my heart each wound renew Of my Savior crucified.*

Leader: We Adore you O Christ and we praise you.

All: Because by your Holy Cross you have redeemed the world.

Leader: The cross becomes a pulpit now – Forgive them Father ... You will be with me in paradise ... There is your mother ... There ... your son ... I thirst ... It is complete. To speak, I have to raise myself by pressing on my wrists and feet, and every move engulfs me in new waves of agony. And then, when I have borne enough, have emptied my humanity, I let my mortal life depart.

All: My Jesus, God, what can I say or do? I offer you my death with all its pains, accepting now the time and kind of death in store for me. Not by a single instant would I lengthen my life's span. I offer you my death for my own sins and for those of all humanity. My God! My God! Forsake me not. We know not what we do.

*Sung: Let me share with you his pain,
Who for all our sins was slain,
Who for me in torments died.*

Leader: We Adore you O Christ and we praise you.

All: Because by your Holy Cross you have redeemed the world.

Leader: The sacrifice is done. Yes, my Mass is complete; but not my mother's and not yours, my other self. My mother must still cradle in her arms the lifeless body of the son she bore. You, too must part from those you love, and grief can also be the price of souls.

All: I beg you, Lord, help me accept the partings that must come – From friends who go away, my children leaving home, and most of all, my dear ones when you shall call them to yourself. Then, give me grace to say: “as it has pleased you, Lord, to take them home, I bow to your most holy will. And if by just one word I might restore their lives against your will, I would not speak.” Grant them eternal joy.

*Sung: Let me mingle tears with thee,
Mourning him who mourned for me,
All the days that I may live:*

Leader: We Adore you O Christ and we praise you.

All: Because by your Holy Cross you have redeemed the world.

Leader: So ends my mortal life. But now another life begins: for Mary, and for Magdalen, for Peter and for John, and you. My life's work is done. My work within and through my church must now commence. I look to you, my other self. Day in, day out, from this time forth, be my apostle – victim – saint.

All: My Jesus, Lord, You know my spirit is as willing as my flesh is weak. The teaching you could not impart, the sufferings you could not bear, the works of love you could not do in your short life on earth, let me impart, and bear and do through you. But I am nothing, Lord. Help me!

*Sung: By the cross with you to stay,
There with you to weep and pray,
This I ask of you to give.*

CONCLUSION

I told you at the start, my other self, my life was not complete until I crowned it by my death. Your “way” is not complete unless you crown it by your life.

Accept each moment as it comes to you, with faith and trust that all that happens has my mark on it. A simple fiat, that is all it takes; a breathing in your heart, “I will it Lord.” So seek me not in far off places. I am close at hand. Your workbench, office kitchen, these are altars where you offer love. And I am with you there.

Go now!

Take up your cross and with your life complete your way.
